LEADERSHIP

Director, Academic Programs, Summer 2022–present.

Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs.

Lead, oversee, and coordinate four academic programs and their staffs for the Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs:

- International and Public Affairs (IAPA) undergraduate concentration
- Master of Public Affairs Program
- Graduate Program in Development
- Postdoctoral Fellows Program

Director, Taubman Center for American Politics and Policy, Summer 2017–Summer 2020.

Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs.

Organized the Center to support innovative research on American politics and policy through:

- Survey Research. Reconfigured the Center’s approach to public opinion data collection by contracting with an ongoing survey platform (YouGov) and inviting faculty members and students to include research questions on the Taubman-sponsored survey.
- Faculty-Student Research Partnership Grants. Developed small grant program to fund faculty research that provided students with opportunities to develop research skills.
- Political Behavior Workshops. Initiated a regional, monthly workshop that featured work-in-progress scholarship by early career scholars. Workshop attracted scholars from the broader Providence-Boston region.
- Taubman Research Workshops. Organized monthly opportunities for scholars from throughout Brown University to offer flash-talk presentations and vibrant discussion on work-in-progress.
- Conferences. Supported annual conferences aligned with the Center’s themes of the Cost of Living, the Pursuit of Democracy, and the Price of Security, including “Citizenship and the City” (select papers published in Urban Affairs Review); “Food, Fish and Sustainability”; and “Women, Peace and Security” (co-sponsored with the U.S. Naval War College)

Promoted community engagement through:

- Rhode Island Politics and Policy Workshops. Monthly discussions provided students and affiliates with opportunities to engage with local politics and policy actors.
- Endowed Lecture Series. Convened multiple endowed lectures each year. Speakers included Ambassador Susan Rice, Rep. Adam Schiff (D-CA), Secretary John Kerry, Ambassador Samantha Power, Professor Martha Minow, among others.

Supported student engagement through:

- Research Opportunities. Connected students with faculty research opportunities.
- Student Ambassadors. Provided students with opportunities to contribute to Taubman programs.
- Internships and Prizes. Supported local, national, and global internships for Brown University students focused on American politics and policy; awarded prizes for student scholarship and engagement.
